

Free Fun Friday! Mother's Day Milk Lid Magnet

imagine. make. believe

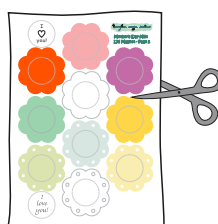

Difficulty Rating: 1/5

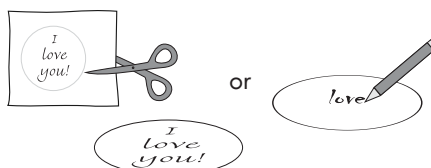

It is always nice to give or receive a little something on Mother's Day, and it doesn't have to be an expensive gift to show your special mum or grandma that you love her. We have a super quick and cheery flower magnet to make that will bring a little smile to her face. You can glue glitter in the middle, instead of having a disc in the centre, and without a magnet on the back, it can be used to decorate a present or a greeting card.

Instructions

1. Print out the templates on the following pages on lightweight card, or glue them onto card, and cut around the flower of your choice.

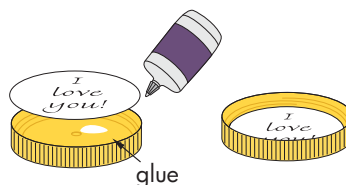

2. Cut out an "I love you" circle or write a message on a milk bottle lid disc with a pen or permanent marker.

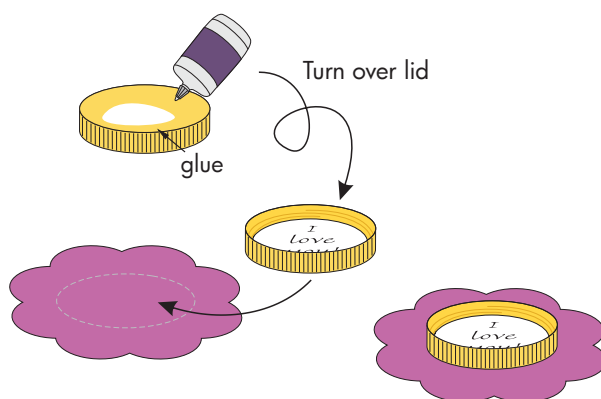

If you don't want to have a message, skip step 3 and spread glue in the middle of the lid and sprinkle with glitter.

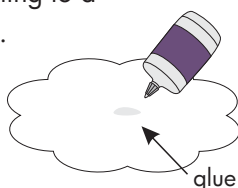

3. Glue the circle or disc, facing up, inside the bottle lid, pressing it in firmly.

4. Cover the back of the bottle lid with glue, and centre it onto the coloured side of the flower using the dotted line on the flower as a guide, and smooth the flower onto the lid.

5. Glue or stick a magnet onto the back of the flower, making sure the unglued side of the magnet will cling to a metal surface.

Supplies

1 bottle lid approximately 4.1 cm (1 5/8 inches) in diameter - we use milk or juice bottle lids. Remove disc and wash and dry lid and disc. See our How to Remove a Milk Bottle Lid Disc page on our website www.imaginemakebelieve.com/how-to/milkiddiscremoval.
